

ELVEN CROSSBOW

Legend has it this crossbow was the one to slay the orc king Grak'Urg, who plagued the land of the elves for decades.

Made by the nimble treefolk, this crossbow weighs half as much as a typical one. It also bestows a +1 bonus to attack and damage.

With a little bit of focus, the one who owns this crossbow can change its appearance in minor ways, like its color or engravings.

This crossbow also endows its owner with a sense of covetous greed, leading them to be more likely to make decisions that benefit their own wealth.
